"Miss BROOM CORN OF 1952" . . . June Meyer, Chicago, relaxes amid a crop of broom corn, from which is made the housewife's best friend—the ordinary house broom—oh, my aching back!. June was awarded the title, "Miss Broom Corn of 1952," at the convention of the National broom manufacturers in Chicago. Now all we are awaiting is for some shapely miss to win the title of "Miss Vacuum Cleaner Bag," or for a skinny lass to be called "Miss Mop Handle."

Calvin H. Robinson Wins Radio Award

For the second successive year, an award for news commentary has come to Calvin Robinson, editor of The Times-Virginian.

Mr. Robinson was in Washington, D. C. on Monday night for the awards banquet of the Virginia Associated Press Broadcasters, at which time he received his award for his "Country Editor Friday night program over Mutual's WWOD Station in Lynchburg. Nineteen radio stations were in the competition for this year's awards. Judges form Maryland appraised the entries, which were in the form of tape recordings of February broadcasts.

Present at the awards banquet at The National Press Club in Washington were U. S. Senator A. Willis Robertson and Congressmen Porter Hardy and Howard Smith of Virginia and administrative assistants of Governor John S. Battle and U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd, as well as officials of the Associated Press and leaders in the radio world.

Principal address at the banquet was made by Russell Brynes, veteran AP correspondent, who discussed the topic: Suppose there is an Armistice in Korea; Then What?

Mrs. Robinson attended the banquet with the Times-Virginian editor.

Mr. Robinson's "Country Editor" radio program has now reached almost to its third full year on the air. It is a "grassroots" commentary on world news events, heard over WWOD each Friday night at 7:15 o'clock.

Senator Moses Urges Poll Tax Payment

In urging that those Appomattox people who have not yet paid their capitation taxes to qualify to vote this year, do so at once, State Senator Charles T. Moses said today:

"To all who want to vote in this year's elections: This is one of the most important that has been held in the last 20 years. A President of the United States will be elected for a four-year term. And one of our United States Senators, for a six-year term. Senator Harry F. Byrd has opposition. Also Congressman Watkins M. Abbitt, our present able Congressman, is up for election for another two-year term. It is necessary for everyone that will be qualified to vote to see that their capitation taxes are paid. See that your neighbors are told, and try to get them to qualify to vote. May 3 is the deadline. I urge you to qualify to vote this year.—Your friend,

Chas. T. Moses."
